Council of Clubs and Organizations

MEMORANDUM

No. 20260511-02

TO : ALL DULY RECOGNIZED CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

SUBJECT : CONDUCT OF SPECIAL INTERNAL ELECTIONS FOR CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

DATE : 11 MAY 2026

In pursuit of ensuring a smooth, organized, and inclusive transition of leadership among all duly recognized clubs and organizations, the Council of Clubs and Organizations (CCO) – Obrero Campus hereby issues this memorandum regarding the conduct of Special Internal Elections for the incoming set of officers for the succeeding Academic Year.

This initiative is being implemented in consideration of the varying organizational structures, constitutional provisions, and operational concerns currently experienced by different clubs and organizations. The conduct of Special Internal Elections aims to provide organizations with sufficient opportunity to reorganize their leadership while ensuring that all elected officers are qualified, capable, and aligned with the mandates of their respective organizations.

Furthermore, the Council recognizes that several clubs and organizations have existing provisions in their Codes and By-Laws which restrict certain year levels from holding positions within the organization. In view of this, the Special Internal Elections shall serve as a mechanism to address possible vacancies, leadership transitions, and other organizational concerns that may arise prior to the opening of the next Academic Year.

Rationale

The conduct of the Special Internal Elections is anchored on the following objectives:

- To address concerns regarding the election and selection of a new set of officers for clubs and organizations;
- To provide organizations the opportunity to comply with their respective Codes and By-Laws concerning officer qualifications and eligibility;
- To ensure continuity of leadership and organizational operations for the succeeding Academic Year;
- To facilitate a smoother transition process between outgoing and incoming officers;

- To encourage accountability, preparedness, and active participation among members in organizational governance; and
- To uphold democratic and transparent processes in the selection of organizational leaders.

Mechanism

To ensure the proper implementation of the Special Internal Elections, all duly recognized clubs and organizations are advised to observe the following guidelines:

1. The conduct of the Special Internal Elections may proceed depending on the discretion, readiness, and availability of the respective club or organization.
2. Clubs and organizations are encouraged to coordinate internally with their advisers and members regarding the schedule, process, and mechanics of their elections to ensure orderly proceedings.
3. In consideration of accessibility, convenience, and efficiency, organizations are highly encouraged to maximize the use of digital platforms in conducting the Special Internal Elections, particularly in processes involving nominations, campaigns, voting, and canvassing of results.
4. Should physical or face-to-face processes be deemed necessary, organizations are expected to ensure proper coordination and observance of existing university policies and regulations.
5. The Special Internal Elections shall serve as the official transition period for the newly elected officers who will assume leadership responsibilities for the next Academic Year. Outgoing officers are encouraged to provide proper turnover of documents, reports, and organizational responsibilities to the incoming officers to ensure continuity of operations.
6. All clubs and organizations are required to submit the final and official list of newly elected officers on or before August 21, 2026. Failure to comply within the prescribed period may affect the organization's records and future transactions with the Council.
7. The official list of officers shall be submitted through the official email address of the Council of Clubs and Organizations (CCO): cco_obrero@usep.edu.ph. Organizations are advised to ensure the completeness and accuracy of the submitted information.
8. The submitted list should follow the format:

[NAME OF CLUB ORGANIZATION]
ELECTED OFFICERS FOR A.Y. 2026-2027

[Position]: NAME [Program, Year Level]

Example:

COUNCIL OF CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS
ELECTED OFFICERS FOR A.Y. 2026-2027

President: JUAN DELA CRUZ [BS, 3rd Year, 09 *** ****]

9. The submitted list of officers shall include the complete names, positions, year level, program, and contact information of the elected officers for proper documentation and verification purposes.

The Council of Clubs and Organizations remains committed to supporting all duly recognized clubs and organizations in strengthening student leadership, organizational continuity, and participatory governance within the University community.

For strict compliance, information, and guidance of all concerned.
